

Development of Seeds for Technology and New Market based on Valorization of Traditional Plants in North Africa

Program:

13:00~13:05 Opening Remarks

13:05~13:35 Wafaa M. AMER (Cairo Univ., Egypt)

“Traditional medicinal plants in Egypt: current status and future prospective”

13:35~14:05 Kiyokazu KAWADA (Univ. of Tsukuba)

“Sustainable and ecological use of bio-resources in North Africa”

14:05~14:35 Mimoun MOKHTARI (Hassan II Inst. of Agronomy and Veterinary Medicine, Morocco)

“Novel tools towards maximizing Argan tree productivity”

14:45~15:15 Hany A. EL-SHEMY (Cairo Univ., Egypt)

“Isolation and identification of an active ingredients as anticancer activities from Egypt traditional plants”

15:15~15:45 Junkyu HAN (Univ. of Tsukuba)

“Development of physiological functions of North African original plants”

15:45~16:15 Mohammed YESSEF (Hassan II Inst. of Agronomy and Veterinary Medicine, Morocco)

Mohammed DEHHAOUI (Hassan II Inst. of Agronomy and Veterinary Medicine, Morocco)

“Ecological and socio-economical values of the traditional Agdal practice for sustainable forage and seed production of the Argan ecosystems”

16:25~16:55 Lokman ZAIBET (Carthage Univ., Tunisia)

“Traditional durum wheat cultivars: production, consumption and seed development issues”

16:55~17:25 Mohamed KEFI (Water Researches and Technologies, Center of Borj Cedria, Tunisia)

“Olive oil sector in Tunisia : opportunities and restrictions”

17:25~17:55 Kenichi KASHIWAGI (Univ. of Tsukuba)

“Valorization of traditional plants as a seed for technology and innovation”

17:55~18:00 Closing Remarks

Date: Wednesday, February 27, 2013 13:00~18:00

Venue: Conference Room, Central Library 中央図書館集会室(2F)

Contact: Alliance for Research on North Africa
(ARENA) 029-853-3982 FREE to Join